

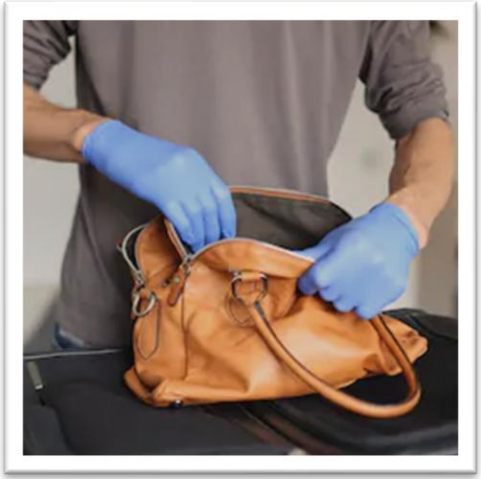
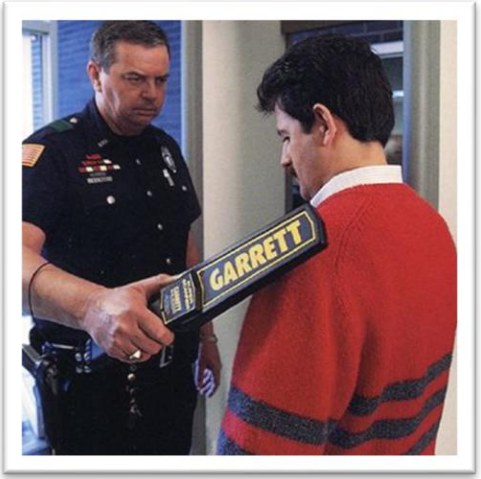
Watching tennis at RAC Arena

I am going to United Cup to watch the tennis at RAC Arena.

When I arrive, I might have to wait in a line to enter the venue.

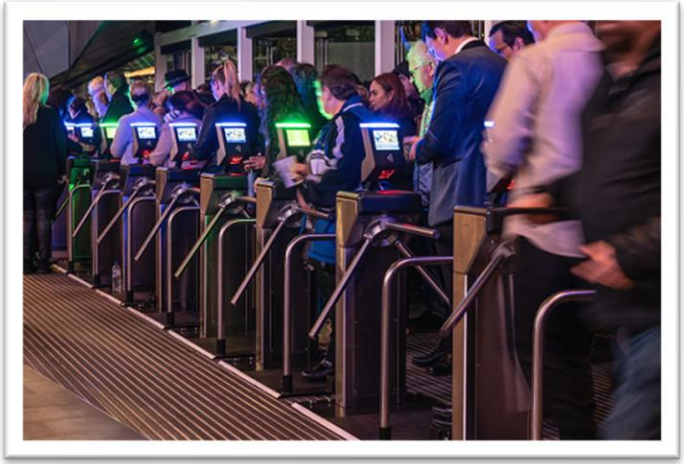




Security will check my bag. I will walk through a body scanner.

This is to keep everyone safe and happy at the tennis.

I can buy food when I am at the event, or I can bring something from home.



I will have to scan my ticket through the scanners and it will make a loud sound. It will light up green which means I can go in.

Everyone has a place to sit – I can find the details on my ticket.

If my disability is hidden, I can choose to wear a Sunflower lanyard around my neck. It will let people know I might need a little more time and assistance. I can get this from the Information Desk on the ground level

When there are people on court playing tennis, I need to stay quiet so they can concentrate.

Lots of people like going to watch the tennis so it might be busy and loud at times. People like to clap and cheer when their favourite player does well. This means they are happy and excited!

break

If there is too much noise or I get overwhelmed, I can ask for a break, play with a fidget toy, or put on headphones.

I can also visit the quiet room. The quiet room has beanbags, calming things to look at, and dimmed lights. I can see the tennis on the TV so I don't miss out!

At the end of the match, the player with the highest score wins. I hope it is the player I like but it is ok if the other player wins.

Going to United Cup at RAC Arena is fun!
